Nobility RCM Solution Design Process

The Nobility RCM Solution Design Process is a collaborative, four-phase approach that puts you at the forefront. Our values of performance, transparency and communication inform every step we take in customizing the optimal RCM solution for you.

Discover → Diagnose → Design → Deliver

Discover

We open an active dialogue with you, using our proven method to quickly and accurately evaluate current and long-term objectives unique to your organization.

Diagnose

The validity of our assumptions from discovery are tested against best-in-practice benchmarks, and we review our summary with you to confirm the accuracy of our assessment.

Design

This is our interactive stage, where we collaborate with your team to address priorities, accountability, and goals to build a preferred solution for you.

Deliver

Implementation of the solution is fortified by assigning outcome measures and key performance indicators, which are reported out to verify and monitor the value of our solution.
